HOCKEY TEAM COMPLETES SCHEDULE--DEFEATS ARMY

Wins Three Of The Four Contests--Beaten By Yale 3-0

Technology completed her hockey schedule Saturday by defeating West Point with the score of 3 to 0. The soldiers put up a fine game but they lacked the team play of the Institute men. Stucklen, Sloan and Allen Gould played best for Tech. Each of these men scored a goal.

In the first game of the season the team was defeated by the strong Crescents of Boston, seven to two. The Technology squad did not have its present line-up for all the candidates were given a try-out and the cut had not then gone into effect. Dartmouth was next played and the Green went down to defeat before Tech's better team. Capt. O'Hearn played a fine game at right wing against the Hanover boys. Harvard and Brae Burn were taken on in order and both of these teams decisively defeated Tech.

During the mid-year vacation the hockey team has played four games winning three of them. On January 28th they played at Albany against Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute and the crack London Field Club, defeating the first 9 to 2 and the last by the score of 5 to 1. Hurley excelled at goal; the team displayed much better form than they had shown before. Yale had hard work taking the next game from Technology but did it after some fast playing in the second half. Tech kept the score 1 to 0 in the first half but Meritt, Yale's right wing, and Heron, cover, by some fine individual playing increased this to three. Stucklen and Billings played good games but could do little without the team working with them.

Pohemus, Hurley, Eichorn, Billings, Allen Gould, Stucklen, Sloan, Richard Gould and Capt. O'Hearn have played in most of the games.

TRACK NOTES

Technology's relay team was picked on the 22nd of January and was to run in a triangular race with Holy Cross and Worcester Polytechnic Institute at the Armory A. A. meet at Providence last Saturday. The team consisted of the following men: K. D. Fernstrom and W. C. Salisbury of last year's team, P. D. White and L. O. Mills.

Last week, however, White and Fernstrom reported minor injuries, and Mills went home for a visit, leaving only Salisbury prepared for the run at Providence. Since there were no available substitutes the coach thought it better for the team to withdraw than to put in unqualified men.

W. J. Pead 1911 and P. W. Dalrymple 1912 entered the meet and Dalrymple carried off second in the handicap high jump.

Tonight comes the Boston College meet. Tech has entered two men in the sprints, C. A. Read 1913 and J. S. Grant 1912.

THE TECH

Today at 4.30 there will be a meeting of all men connected with The Tech in the lower Tech office. Every man connected with the paper last term is expected to be present. New men are also urged to come around at this time and become acquainted with the methods of publication.

WESTERN TRIP OF MUSICAL CLUBS VERY SUCCESSFUL

Innovation Proves Interest Of Alumni In Undergraduate Student Enterprise

On Sunday evening, Jan. 30, at 7.30 P. M., thirty-seven members of the Musical Clubs boarded the special sleeper at Trinity Place for the first Western trip. Much regret was caused by the announcement that Franzheim had been taken ill at the last moment, and would be unable to accompany the Clubs.

Northrop joined the crowd at Springfield. At the same place, a bevy of pretty girls came to the station to meet Doc Moore and Zeke Williams, and presented them with some delicious fudge, and some pyrotechnic cigars. The latter were exhibited by Crowley of Bangor, who was not a little surprised to see a stream of sparks pour from the end of his smoke.

Wheeler got on at Pittsfield after midnight, but not too late to be warmly welcomed, as the crowd was entertained until a late hour by Doyle, Crowley, Shaw and other lesser lights.

BUFFALO, MONDAY, JAN. 31.

After a good night's rest (?) the bunch reached Buffalo at eleven o'clock, and found a hearty reception awaiting them. H. A. Boyd '99, W. L. Spalding '05, L. E. Williams '02, were on the reception committee, and conducted the fellows to the University Club. This handsome club was thrown open to the fellows and served as headquarters during the stay in Buffalo.

As soon as things were settled, the Mandolin and the Banjo Clubs were taken by Mr. Richer, '88, to the Master Park High School, where a short concert was given before an enthusiastic and appreciative audience of nearly a thousand students. It was a pleasure to meet there Miss K. A. Bowen, who was at the Institute in 1895. Jack Martin made quite a great impression by his noise making stunt in "Hoop-kack." The young lady who assists the principal having remarked, "That red-headed young man is remarkably versatile." At the same time, the Glee Club appeared before 1400 students of the fine Lafayette School, and met with a very hearty welcome.

Upon the return of the Club, luncheon was served to all but Crowley and Odell, the brightest stars in the social firmament of Buffalo. They had already gone astray, and returned too late for anything more nourishing than a milk shake.

At three o'clock a reception in honor of the members of the club was given in the beautiful home of Mrs. C. P. Hugo Schoellkopf.

The men were pleasantly surprised to find the reception hall artistically decorated with an abundance of Tech banners and pennants. Several members of the debonair set attended the reception, which was quite informal, and singing and dancing were enjoyed by all. Northrop and Odell had an especially good time if one could judge from Northrop's anxiety to continue the dance after the concert, or from Odell's blushes whenever he is asked about that note he received just before the concert. Refreshments were served in a small room adjoining the ball room, the most striking feature being a real German punch from which it was difficult to tear the fellows away. During the afternoon, one of the young ladies, an accomplished musician, wrote a song, which she dedicated to the Glee Club and presented to Caldwell. The latter responded fittingly, and will probably put it on the program for the Spring Concert.

Mrs. Schoellkopf proved a charming hostess, who knew just how to make a crowd of young fellows enjoy themselves. Her kindness was especially appreciated, as she is not directly connected with the Institute in any way.

After a last glass of German punch, the fellows returned to the Club, where they dressed for dinner. The dinner was given by the Alumni, who were represented by W. L. Spalding, W. H. V. Watkins '95, and others.

After an enjoyable meal, the men went to the Twentieth Century Club, where the concert was given. An audience of five hundred Buffalonians had gathered, and considering the fact that the Boston Symphony Orchestra gave its Buffalo concert the same night, this large number reflected great credit on Mr. Boyd, Mr. Spalding, Mr. Watkins, and Mr. Ricker, who were most active in promoting the concert.

The hearty reception accorded each number made the fellows perfectly at home. The musical numbers attracted much approval from the critical Buffalonians, the solos of Shaw and Wilson being especially well received. The fun-making of the seven "Tech-Comers" drew many laughs, and Doble, with his classic story of "The Hundred Oysters" established a reputation for himself in Buffalo. The moving pictures of the Tech stunts, taken at the Reunion, and shown before the concert, made a pleasing addition to the program, and caused much merriment. The Alumni were delighted with the success of the concert, and the next time the Clubs come to Buffalo, they will be received with open arms.

After the concert, all the fellows except Odell returned to the University Club, where a smoker had been arranged by the Alumni. All the Tech men in Buffalo were on hand, and a number of the University Club men from the other colleges joined in the fun. A Dutch lunch was served, and every one sat around and sang songs they knew. Later "The Hundred Oysters" was called for, and elicited so much applause that Doble had to supplement it with several comic songs.

Shaw played a solo, and others volunteered stunts. The meeting broke up quite late, after what everybody voted to be a most successful smoker, and the fellows scattered to the various homes and places where they were to spend the night.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 1.

On Tuesday morning at 9.30, twenty of the members set out to visit the Lackawanna Steel Works. This is one of the largest steel plants in the country, and the trip was highly interesting and instructive. It was made possible through the kindness of Mr. Waterhouse, Chief Metallurgist of the company. The men were accompanied by C. H. White '09.

Smaller groups visited the Pierce Automobile factory, the Larkin Soap Co., and the Calumet and Hecla Smelting Plant, and other similar institutions.

In the afternoon twenty-eight of the fellows, accompanied by Mr. Watkins, Mr. and Mrs. Ricker and Mrs. Carpenter '91, visited Niagara. Here the men had the unusual opportunity of seeing the Falls in winter, and of taking the famous gorge trip in the company of Mr. Ricker '88, the engineer who had

BASKETBALL-TEAM SPLITS EVEN ON NEW YORK TRIP

Defeated By Niagara And Rochester--Lack Of Team Work Cause

Tech's basketball team split even on the New York trip, winning two of the four games played. The trip can not be said to have been very successful inasmuch as the teams which were defeated by the Institute were much inferior, being lighter and not having men as experienced as are most of the Tech-squad, but the Institute team showed many flashes of brilliant playing at times. The team being continually on the move from one place to another tired the men and this was evident in their playing. Crocker hurt his ankle in the Rochester game but it is not a serious injury.

The series commenced with the game at Alfred. Tech won with the score of 35 to 19. The team arrived late at Niagara and did their best against the University team there, but were defeated 13 to 26. The Niagara University men displayed much better team work. After a day's rest, Tech took the next game from Conesus at Buffalo. This was the closest of the four games; at the end of the first half, Conesus led by a score of 16 to 9. In the second half Conesus kept the lead up to the last minute, when Tech shot two baskets in succession making the final score 24 to 20. Saturday, at Rochester, the team lost to the University men, being completely outplayed all through the game. The score was 39 to 9. Capt. Parker and Johnston were the individual stars of the trip.

The men who went on the trip were Capt. T. B. Parker, center, H. F. Johnston and W. B. Hargraves, forwards, H. S. Crocker and A. T. Dennis, backs, C. S. Ell and G. S. Darling, substitutes.

On January 15th, Tech defeated Brown in a very close and interesting game at Providence. The Institute players showed good team work and excelled in shooting baskets from the floor.

COSMOPOLITAN CLUB

Foreigners To Have Rooms--Will Promote Sociability

During vacation steps were taken to form the Cosmopolitan Club of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. This club proposes to bring together all foreigners and a limited number of American citizens at the Institute, in order to identify the foreign element here more closely with Technology life and activities, and to develop the tolerance and breadth of view necessary for an educated man.

The organizing committee, composed of representative foreigners and prominent members of the faculty and corporation interested in the success of the movement, has been at work during the vacation, and a constitution has been drawn up, rooms examined, and charter members selected.

The club will have one or two rooms in the near vicinity of the Institute, and these rooms will be open to members at all times. It is expected that foreigners and those U. S. men elected will make full use of these rooms, as on the sociability of the members depends the success of the club.

How'd you come out?

Perhaps if the under-class basket-ball teams took a brace they might win for a change.

Considering the crippled condition of the varsity basket ball squad the showing they made on their trip was creditable.

Three games won out of the four played speaks well for the hockey team. Congratulations.

The Tech is indebted to Mr. M. R. Scharff for the article on the trip taken by the Musical clubs.

The trip, by the way, was a tremendous success. The fellows had the time of their lives and the alumni supported them in loyal fashion. The Musical clubs of the future could do no better than to continue these between term trips, for what could better serve to bring the graduates and under-graduates into closer relations? General Manager W. W. Warner, deserves the thanks of every Tech man for planning and engineering such a successful trip.

With the opening of the second term, The Tech issues another call for men to come out for the various departments connected with the paper. There are at present exceptional opportunities for good earnest men to secure places in either the business or news departments. The time consumed is not very great, for if a man attends strictly to business he should not need to spend more than two hours on an issue and no man is expected to serve on more than one issue a week.

The results obtained both in experience and in knowledge of Institute affairs and Institute men are invaluable, and coupled with the training every man gets at Tech, go far toward making him a successful engineer or business man.

Let every man who means business come around and see the business manager or the editor-in-chief and talk the matter over with him. We think that we can interest you and make you see that work on The Tech is to your own personal advantage and is the best way of advancing the general interests of Technology.

It is to be regretted that there are some men using the Union who do not know enough to respect the rights of others. Sometime just before vacation a number of men started a "rough-house" in the living rooms of the Union, breaking three of the armchairs. The Union is a place for the social life of the student body and it is deplorable to think that there among us some who have absolutely no sense of common decency.

The efficiency of wireless has been established without a doubt. The magic call "S. O. S." sent out from the Kentucky sinking 200 miles east of Charleston saved the entire crew of 47 men. Life preservers, automatic fire alarm apparatus and double bulkheads are as nothing compared to the efficiency of the wireless station. If steamship owners will not in their own interests equip their vessels with wireless apparatus, they ought, in consideration of the lives and property of others, be compelled to take this simple and most merciful of precautions.

charge of the construction of the Niagara Gorge Railway. This remarkable piece of engineering was made especially interesting by Mr. Ricker's explanations, and tales of the obstacles that had to be overcome. The magnificent spectacle of the Falls awed everyone into silence, excepting the irrepressible Crowley, who remarked, "It's a very creditable exhibition, but you ought to see the Bangor dam."

The car stopped for some time at Lewiston on the Canadian side, for rest and refreshments. The fellows then returned to Niagara, much refreshed, and took the train back to Buffalo.

The evening was occupied by various parties given to small groups of the fellows.

WEDNESDAY, FEB. 2. DETROIT.

Every man showed up for the 7.45 train Wednesday morning although it was a hard pull for some. The train left over an hour late, but made up about half an hour before reaching Detroit.

The train was met at the station by Granger Whitney '87, G. A. Anthony '98, Mr. Lange, '04, Mr. Kennedy '08, and L. W. Partridge whose son was manager of the Musical Clubs. The fellows went at once to the University Club where they were entertained by the Alumni until dinner was served.

The concert was held in the Church of Our Father and was attended by nearly a thousand people, the largest crowd that ever turned out in Detroit for a college concert. The Program was received with great enthusiasm and the alumni expressed themselves as highly pleased with the showing made by the clubs. The moving pictures of the stunts and of the Technique rush were again shown and were well received.

The evening was occupied by various parties. The pictures of the stunts, and Technique rush were again shown and well received.

After the concert the male portion of the audience adjourned to the University club and enjoyed a very lively smoker until midnight. Nearly every alumnus in Detroit was on hand, and the best of good fellowship prevailed. Doble was compelled to repeat his "Hundred Oysters," and Granger Whitney '87, drew hearty applause by singing "Admiral Togo."

Nineteen of the fellows left Detroit for Chicago on a special at 12.45 A. M. The others spent the night at the Club, or at the houses of Alumni, and went down in the morning. Those who went ahead spent the day visiting friends in Chicago, and Doble and Scharff had the opportunity of meeting about thirty of the Alumni at the Grand Pacific Hotel, where a Technology luncheon is held every Thursday.

Those who spent the night in Detroit reached Chicago at 3.30 P. M. and were met by Mr. Hafar, president of the Northwestern Alumni Association.

SOCIETY OF ARTS

Will Speak On "Chemistry And Public Health"

Dr. H. W. Wiley will address the Society of Arts Wednesday, Feb. 9 at 8 P. M., in Huntington Hall on "The Services of Chemistry in the Promotion of Public Welfare." The lecture promises to be exceptionally interesting, as Dr. Wiley in his position as chief chemist of the Department of Agriculture has had opportunity to thoroughly study the problems of chemistry in their relations to public health. His fight for adequate pure food laws has brought him into national prominence. This address will give Tech students a chance to hear one of the best known chemists of the country.

CLASS BASKETBALL

During the mid-year vacation the underclass basketball teams have both played the strong Somerville High School team and have each been vanquished.

The Freshmen played at Somerville on the 2nd of February and in a rather fast game were defeated by the score of 38 to 20. McCarthy and Muther played best for the 1913 team while Pierce and Forg excelled for the home team.

Saturday, the Sophomores tried their luck and managed to keep the Somerville boys amused for an afternoon. The score was 42 to 5 in favor of Somerville. The game was fast and well played, that is, as far as Somerville was concerned; as for the 1912 men, they were noticeable once in a great while. Cherry and Albee were in prominence more than the rest of the Sophomore team.

The Sophomores also went to Danvers on the 22nd of January to get defeated by St. John's Prep. School. Score 25 to 8.
